1. Business hours

We are normally open between 9.00 am and 5.15 pm from Monday to Friday although arrangements can be made to see you at other times convenient to you. We are closed on all bank holidays and we usually close our offices over the Christmas period. We will always ensure you are aware of any non-standard office closures. We operate a 24/7 telephone service and if your matter is urgent you will always be connected with someone at BTMK via telephone, our website or by e-mail.

2. Our responsibilities

We will:

- treat you fairly and with respect
 - communicate with you in plain language
 - review your matter regularly
 - advise you of any changes in the law that affect your matter
 - advise you of any reasonably foreseeable circumstances and risks that could affect the outcome of your matter

3. Your responsibilities

You will ensure, so far as you practicably can, to:

- provide us with your timely instructions, information and materials necessary or desirable for us to perform our professional services for you;
 - notify us promptly of any changes or additions to instructions, information and materials previously provided by you or on your behalf;
 - ensure that all information provided to us is complete in all material respects and not misleading;
 - safeguard any documents that may be required for your matter, including documents that you may have to disclose to another party in the course of your matter;
 - pay our bills and any requests for payments on account of costs promptly and without delay to ensure that we can do our job for you.

4. Our services

We only advise on the law of England & Wales. If you require advice on the laws applicable in other jurisdictions, we will, with your agreement, instruct lawyers practising those laws to give you such advice as may be necessary, on the same basis we engage other third parties on your behalf. We are not authorised to provide financial advice to you and we will not do so.

If you do not provide us with relevant materials or information, we cannot be responsible for not providing you with advice on those materials or information.

If you are taking advice on ancillary matters from other professionals such as accountants or financial advisers, then it is important that you tell us so that we can work together with those professionals to meet your objectives.

5. Service levels and frequency of communication

5.1 We will:

- regularly update you by telephone or in writing with progress on your matter;
- explain to you by telephone or in writing the legal work required as your matter progresses;
- update you on the likely timescales for each stage of the matter and any important changes in those estimates. Whenever there is a material change in circumstances associated with your matter, we will update you on whether the likely outcomes still justify the likely costs and risks;
- update you on the cost of your matter at the intervals set out in our letter confirming your instructions. If appropriate, we will continue to review whether there are alternative methods by which your matter can be funded.

5.2. Using Electronic Communications

- If you provide us with your e-mail address and/or mobile number, you agree that we can contact you by electronic communication. We will also use electronic communication with others about your case and in particular those people listed at clause 8.3.
- However, in giving us your permission in clause 5.2, you must accept the following:

5.2.1 We have no control over the internet or telecommunication systems;

5.2.2 We cannot guarantee to you that whoever receives any electronic communication that we send on your case will receive it within a reasonable period of time or at all;

5.3 We do not accept responsibility if:

5.3.1 you or anyone else changes any electronic communication that we send about your case after the time that we have sent it;

5.3.2 we don't receive any electronic communication that you or anyone else sends to us;

5.3.3 we do not receive within a relevant period any urgent electronic communication that you or anyone else sends to us about your case;

5.3.4 you or anyone else changes any electronic communication that is sent to us about your case before we receive it;

5.3.5 you or anyone else does not receive within a relevant period any urgent communication that we send about your case

5.4 The networks that we use to send electronic communication do not guarantee their security or a delivery time. As a result, we cannot give you any guarantees about these matters.

5.5 We always try to ensure that our e-mails and their attachments do not contain viruses by using virus-monitoring software such as Microsoft 365 or similar. We cannot however guarantee any e-mails or their attachments to be virus-free and highly recommend that you check any e-mail that we send to you for viruses that may become attached after we have sent them and before you open our e-mails.

5.6 If you are concerned about the security and confidentiality of using electronic communication or you feel that your e-mails could be accessed by anyone other than yourself (and for this purpose we will assume that when you provide to us an e-mail address or mobile telephone number, only you will have access to that service), please discuss this with us as we may be able to offer password encrypted e-mails or attachments.

6. Limit of liability

We have professional indemnity insurance giving cover for claims against BTMK. Details of this insurance, including contact details of our insurer and the territorial coverage of the policy, can be inspected at our Head Office or made available on request. Each of our Directors, Shareholders and lawyers are entitled to the benefit of these terms under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999. However, we may change or end our contact with you without their permission.

Our maximum aggregate liability to you in this matter will be £15 million including interest and costs unless we expressly state a different figure in our letter confirming your instructions.

If you wish to discuss a variation of this limit, please contact the person dealing with your matter. Agreeing a higher limit on our liability may result in us seeking an increase in our charges for handling your matter. Please note that no variation in the limit will be deemed to be varied unless it is in writing and signed by two Directors in BTMK.

We will not be liable for any consequential, special, indirect or exemplary damages, costs or losses, or any damages, costs or losses attributable to lost profit or opportunity.

BTMK Solicitors Limited is a company incorporated in England and Wales. This means that the Directors and Shareholders of the Company and our lawyers are not personally liable for any acts or omissions by them, unless the law requires otherwise. This does not limit or exclude liability of the company for the acts or omissions of its employees. You hereby agree that you will not bring a claim against any employee, lawyer, Director or Shareholder for services they provide on behalf of BTMK unless they are acting outside of BTMK.

We can only limit our liability to the extent the law allows. In particular, we cannot limit liability for death or personal injury caused by negligence.

If you are a Company, we are not responsible for advising your shareholders, directors or employees, unless they have specifically asked us to. If we do so, the advice we provide will be under a separate agreement with them.

Apart from what we say above in this clause, our contract with you cannot be enforced under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999. This means that nobody other than you, us or our employees has any right to enforce or rely on any term of our contract with you.

Please ask if you would like us to explain any of the terms above.

7. Regulated services

BTMK Solicitors Limited is authorised and regulated by the Solicitors Regulation Authority, The Cube, 199 Wharfside Street, Birmingham, B1 1RN ("the SRA"). Our SRA ID is 620631. Our obligations to our Regulator will usually always trump our obligations to you as our client in terms of complying with any investigation or audit. We have to keep to the rules of the Solicitors Regulation Authority when acting for you.

8. Data protection and using your data

This section should be read in conjunction with our Privacy Policy which forms part of these Terms of Business.

- 8.1 Under data protection law we have given the Information Commissioner formal notice that we hold personal information;
- 8.2 We have to tell you about your rights under data protection law. Please see the Privacy Policy at the end of these Terms of Business.
- 8.3 As part of providing our services to you, we may need to reveal personal information about you to other people. It is not possible to list everyone that this may include because that will depend on the nature of your case or matter. Examples are as follows:
 - 8.3.1 The Court or Tribunal(s);
 - 8.3.2 Your opponent or their lawyers;
 - 8.3.3 Experts of any nature
 - 8.3.4 Barristers that we instruct on your behalf;
 - 8.3.5 Enquiry, Tracing or other Legal Agents;
 - 8.3.6 Foreign lawyers in Europe or in other jurisdictions
 - 8.3.7 Other services that we use at BTMK such as outsourcing of typing services, website or social media providers, third party telephony suppliers

Your continuing instructions to us in relation to your matter will automatically be considered your deemed consent to our sharing your personal information for the matter in relation to which we are being instructed.

- 8.4 In some cases we have a legal duty to release information about you. If we do have to release information about you or your business, and as part of the services that we are providing to you, we will only release what is reasonable and appropriate. Please ask us if you are concerned about this. Please also see the section about the Prevention of Money Laundering and Terrorist Financing.

- 8.5 If we set up a Company for you, we may have to release personal information about you to the companies that set it up and who provide director and secretarial services.
- 8.6 We might also need to share personal information about you with companies or businesses that we control or are connected with. We will share your information within BTMK whether you instruct BTMK, BTMK Goodson, BTMK Marcus Baum or BTMK Todmans.
- 8.7 We use cloud storage for client files. Our cloud software is provided by LEAP and Microsoft. LEAP's cloud infrastructure is provided and maintained by Amazon Web Service, who comply with internationally recognised standards, the EU Data Protection Directive, the General Data Protection Regulation and the Data Protection Act 2018.
- 8.8 Almost all of our IT is managed by another organisation, which may process your information for us. As a result, we may need to share with them personal information about you so that they can maintain our IT systems, such as an electronic filing system. All of these services are provide under a written contract with them to protect your details to keep them confidential.
- 8.9 We will also keep you up to date with information about us, our services, events, legal developments and issues that might interest you. It is often the case that you may have instructed us in relation to one area of the law but which also requires you to be kept up to date in relation to another area of the law. If we believe that your interests will be best served by providing this information to you, then we will provide that information to you.
- 8.10 You are required to notify us that you agree to these Terms of Business. As part of that agreement we would also invite you to agree that we may communicate with you about the topics set out in 8.8 above so that we may provide the best possible service to you. Your continuing instructions will confirm your acceptance of these terms of business in the event that you do not provide your express consent as requested.
- 8.11 If we are served with, for example, a Production Order by the Court in relation to your files or papers in relation to your current or previous matters or in relation to assets or property that the authorities believe may be owned by you, then we have to comply with these Orders and we have no liability to you if action is taken against you as a result of such compliance or if your matter is delayed as a result of such compliance or even to tell you about such an order unless the order itself provides that we may do so.
- 8.12 We use the information you provide primarily for the provision of legal services to you and for related purposes including:
- updating and enhancing client records
 - analysis to help us manage our practice
 - statutory returns
 - legal and regulatory compliance
- Our use of that information is subject to your instructions, the Data Protection Act 2018 (DPA 2018), and the UK General Data Protection Regulation (UK GDPR) and our duty of confidentiality. Under data protection legislation you have a right of access to the personal data that we hold about you.
- 8.13 Outsourcing of work
- From time to time we outsource work on a particular matter to ensure that the work is carried out promptly. We will always seek a confidentiality agreement with these outsourced providers.
- If you do not want your file to be outsourced, please let us know as soon as possible.

9. Storage and retrieval of files

- 9.1 After finishing your case, we will store files and any other papers about it for:
- 9.1.1 the amount of time we are required to store them by law, which will not be less than 6 years; or
- 9.1.2 in line with our Information Retention and Data Protection policies and with UK GDPR
- whichever is the longest. We cannot be held liable for any losses or otherwise for the destruction of papers at any time after the period provided for by the law.
- 9.2 After completing the work, we will be entitled to keep all of your original papers and documents while there is still money owed to us for fees and expenses. For information on solicitor's lien see paragraph 11.3. Copy documents and scanned documents will be retained nevertheless subject to 9.1 above.
- 9.3 We will not destroy documents you ask us to deposit in safe custody.

- 9.4 Should you wish the file to be retrieved from storage there could be a charge for this. However If we take papers or documents out of storage in relation to continuing or new instructions to act for you, we will not normally charge for the retrieval. However we may charge you for:
- time spent producing stored papers that are requested
 - reading, correspondence or other work necessary to comply with your instructions in relation to the retrieved papers
- 9.5 We may store files and other papers in electronic form and at our election. If we do, we may destroy the hard-copy documents. In this case, we will keep the electronic copies according to 9.1 above.

10. Quality & Regulatory Audits

- 10.1 In order to maintain a high quality service, external firms or organisations may conduct audit or quality checks on our practice. This may mean that your file is selected for checking, in which case we would need your consent for inspection to occur. By agreeing to these terms and conditions, you hereby agree that (i) your file or matter may be selected for audit (ii) subject to confidentiality provisions, we may disclose your file for this purpose
- 10.2 Our professional regulator, the Solicitors Regulation Authority (“SRA”), may also request information from us in relation to your matter. This may take the form of requesting us to compile a report or them inspecting your file. Our obligations to the SRA will ordinarily trump any obligations to you and we may be requested to provide information in a redacted or unredacted form. You hereby agree to this taking place if necessary.
- 10.3 All inspections are conducted in confidence. If you prefer to withhold consent, work on your file will not be affected in any way. Since very few of our Clients do object to this we will assume that we have your consent unless you notify us to the contrary. We will also assume, unless you indicate otherwise, that consent on this occasion will extend to all future matters which we conduct on your behalf.
- 10.4 Your files may also be reviewed in a due diligence exercise relating to the sale or transfer of all or part of our business, the acquisition of another business by us or the acquisition of new business. If you do not wish your file to be used in this way or for this purpose, please let us know as soon as possible. Otherwise we will assume that subject to strict confidentiality and non-disclosure agreements, you consent to this when relevant.

11. Terminating your instructions

- 11.1 You may end your instructions at any time, by giving us notice in writing but we can keep all your papers and documents (except for private medical records in health matters) while our charges or disbursements are outstanding.
- 11.2 We can only decide to stop acting for you with good reason and we must give you reasonable notice and must do so in writing. Some example of why we may stop acting for you on a matter are as follows:
- 11.2.1 if you fail to pay our bills in full on the date you should have paid them or fail to pay us in advance when we ask you;
- 11.2.2 if the rules and regulations governing how we operate mean we have to stop acting for you;
- 11.2.3 if you repeatedly fail to give us proper instructions
- 11.2.4 if you or a business that is owned, operated or controlled (wholly or in part) by you owe to us money in relation to another matter that we are or were instructed in relation to;
- 11.2.5 where there are circumstances which break the required trust and confidence between a solicitor and client.
- 11.3 Unless we are not allowed to do so under the SRA Accounts Rules, we may take the amount of any overdue invoice from any money we hold on your behalf. We may exercise a lien (a charge) over any property or papers in our possession until all fees, disbursements and other expenses are paid for all matters we have carried out on your behalf. This will apply to any property or papers we hold on behalf of anyone jointly instructing us with you.
- 11.4 If we have to take steps to remove ourselves from the Court record as acting for you or your business on this or another matter, you must pay for that if it is because you have stopped instructing us or because you owe money to us. If we stop acting for you with good reason, we will bear the costs of such an application, unless you unreasonably refuse to sign a Notice of Change of Solicitor.

12. Prevention of money laundering and terrorist financing

- 12.1 In addition to what we say above in Clause 8 of these Terms of Business, we will also use any personal information about you for the purposes of preventing money laundering and terrorism.
- 12.2 The Money Laundering, Terrorist Financing and Transfer of Funds (Information on the Payer) Regulations 2017 as amended say we must, in most cases, gather evidence of the identity of our clients and of any “beneficial owners” i.e. those who own or control a client or client company.
- 12.3 As a result we will carry out an independent computer identity check on you with another service provider and we may ask you to show us some form of personal or business documents as required by the regulations in order for us to be able to identify you or your business. Our service provider who carries out the check is authorised by you in these Terms of Business to receive your personal data and for us to send it to them.
- 12.4 Our service provider that carries out the identification check pursuant to 12.3 above will record the fact that we have carried out a search and may also use the details from the search in the future to help other search providers to confirm the identity of other identities. The provider may also reveal your information to a credit referencing agency to confirm your identity.
- 12.5 If you are a new client or an existing client who has not supplied information below within the last year, you are requested to supply both of the following; one item from List A and one item from List B (please note we require certified copies if you are sending these by post or if you are bringing in the original documents to our offices - we will make certified copies here).

LIST A - Proof of Identity

1. Current fully signed Passport
2. Current full UK Photocard Driving Licence

LIST B - Address Verification

1. A bill for the supply of electricity, gas, water or telephone services (provided it is fewer than three (3) months old). Mobile phone bills are not acceptable.
 2. House or motor insurance certificate.
 3. Council Tax bill (provided it is fewer than three (3) months old).
 4. Recent Tax Coding Notice.
 5. Recent Mortgage Statement.
 6. Credit Card/Bank Statement (provided it is fewer than three (3) months old) showing current address.
- 12.6 Solicitors must keep the affairs of their clients confidential. Changes in recent legislation on money laundering and terrorist financing place a legal duty on solicitors in some circumstances to provide information to the National Crime Agency (“NCA”). If a solicitor knows or suspects that money laundering is involved when, for example a client buys or sells a property, we may have to tell the NCA. If this happens it may not be possible to tell you that your information has been passed to the NCA as we may not be permitted to “tip off” a client. The NCA will then decide if we can continue to act for you. Even if we can continue to act for you, the NCA may pass the information to another government or non-government third party and the matter could be investigated.
- 12.7 If we provide information to the NCA to comply with our own obligations and if there is no evidence for our suspicions, all of our letters, telephone calls, e-mails and communications will remain private. If however the NCA finds that there is evidence for our suspicions, then the expectation of privacy in relation to your communications with us will be lost and we will then be able to discuss your matter in greater detail as required by the authorities.
- 12.8 There is no liability on BTMK for any loss or damage where we are complying with our obligations.
- 12.9 For all retainers where identification checks are required, the information will need to be updated where there is:
- any indication that the identity of the client has changed;
 - a gap in the retainer of one year or more.
- 12.10 The cost of obtaining identification checks will be charged to you as a recharge, and will be billed at the cost charged to us.

13. Confidentiality and conflicts of interest

We will keep information about your business and affairs confidential and will not disclose it to any other person except (a) with your consent, (b) to your other professional advisors, (c) where disclosure is required or permitted by law, (d) to any body which regulates us (such as The Solicitors Regulation Authority) (e) to the extent that such information enters, or has entered, the public domain or (f) (in confidence only) to our professional indemnity insurers, brokers, auditors or professional advisers. This section is expressly subject to clauses 8 & 12 above.

We shall be under no duty to disclose to you (or take into account during the course of providing our services to you) any information acquired by us in acting for any other client or any information in respect of which we owe a duty of confidentiality to a third party, howsoever that duty arose (whether contractual or because the third party is a client);

Our advice and other communications with you are confidential and may not, without our consent, be disclosed by you to any third party (other than to your employees and agents who require access and who do not disclose it further) or otherwise made public except as required by law or other regulatory authority to which you are subject. No third party may in any event rely on our advice.

If a result of our acting on your behalf, you acquire any information in respect of which we notify you that we owe a duty of confidentiality to a third party, you will keep it confidential and not use it without our consent.

We will not act in relation to a matter where there is a conflict of interest in relation to that matter, or a related matter, or there is a significant risk that there is a conflict of this kind unless we are permitted to do so by the professional rules from time to time of The Solicitors Regulation Authority and, where required by those rules, with your consent.

14. Receiving and paying funds

Our policy is to only accept cash up to £500. If you try to avoid this policy by depositing cash directly with our bank, we may have to charge you for any additional checks we decide are necessary to prove the source of the funds. Where we have to pay money to you, it will be paid by bank transfer wherever possible. It will not be paid in cash or to a third party.

The Solicitors Accounts Rules prevent us from being able to make payments on your behalf to third parties that you are able to make yourself. Please ensure you allow sufficient time for transfer of funds.

Any money received on your behalf will usually be held in our client account with Barclays Bank Plc but may also be held at other banks authorised by the Financial Conduct Authority with a view to spreading risk. We are not liable for any losses you suffer as a result of any such banking institution being unable to repay depositors in full. You may, however, be protected by the Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS).

The FSCS is the UK's statutory fund of last resort for customers of banking institutions. The FSCS can pay compensation up to £85,000 if a banking institution is unable, or likely to be unable, to pay claims against it.

The limit is £85,000 per banking institution. If you hold other personal money in the same banking institution as our client account[s], the limit remains £85,000 in total.

Some banking institutions have several brands. The compensation limit is £85,000 per institution, not per brand. You should check with your banking institution, the FCA or a financial advisor for more information.

The FSCS also provides up to £1m of short-term protection for certain high balances, eg relating to property transactions, inheritance, divorce or dissolution of a civil partnership, unfair dismissal, redundancy and personal injury compensation (there is no financial limit on protection for personal injury compensation). This is called the temporary high balance scheme and, if it applies, protection lasts for a maximum of six months.

The FSCS (including the temporary high balance scheme) will apply to qualifying balances held in our client account. In the unlikely event of a deposit-taking institution failure, we will presume (unless we hear from you in writing to the contrary) we have your consent to disclose necessary client details to the FSCS.

15. Complaints

We are committed to providing high quality legal advice and client care. If you are unhappy about any aspect of the service you receive or about the bill, please contact the person with overall responsibility for supervision of your matter. If that person is unable to resolve matters then please contact our complaints director, Nitin Khandhia on 01702 238542 (email: nitin.khandhia@btmk.co.uk) or by post to Nitin Khandhia, BTMK Solicitors Limited, 19 Clifftown Road, Southend-on-Sea, Essex, SS1 1AB. We have a written procedure that sets out how we handle complaints. A copy can be made available to you on request.

We have eight weeks to consider your complaint. If we have not resolved it within this time you may complain to the Legal Ombudsman. If you are not satisfied with our handling of your complaint you can ask the Legal Ombudsman to consider the complaint. The Legal Ombudsman's contact details are:

PO Box 6806, Wolverhampton, WV1 9WJ

0300 555 0333—from 9.00am to 5.00pm

enquiries@legalombudsman.org.uk

www.legalombudsman.org.uk

Normally, you will need to bring a complaint to the Legal Ombudsman within six months of receiving a final written response from us about your complaint or within six years of the act or omission about which you are complaining occurring (or if outside of this period, within three years of when you should reasonably have been aware of it). Generally, the Legal Ombudsman deals with complaints relating to acts or omissions that happened after 5 October 2010.

The Legal Ombudsman deals with complaints by consumers and very small businesses. This means some clients may not have the right to complain to the Legal Ombudsman, eg charities or clubs with an annual income of more than £1 million, trustees of trusts with asset value of more than £1 million and most businesses (unless they are defined as micro-enterprises). This does not prevent you from making a complaint directly to us about the service you have received or about the bill.

The Solicitors Regulation Authority can help you if you are concerned about our behaviour. This could be for things like dishonesty, taking or losing your money or treating you unfairly because of your age, a disability or other characteristic. You can raise your concerns through their website: <https://www.sra.org.uk/consumers/problems/report-solicitor/>

16. Basis of our charges

- 16.1 We will discuss with you, at the outset of a matter, usually at various intervals as it progresses and at completion, what we consider to be an appropriate charge for our services. Unless otherwise agreed in our Engagement Letter, our fees will be calculated mainly by reference to the time spent by us in providing the services at the standard hourly rates applicable to the relevant staff.
- 16.2 We may, in accordance with professional guidelines, also charge a premium, where reasonable to do so, to take account of the nature, complexity, value and urgency of the services we provide to you and other criteria specified in those guidelines.
- 16.3 The standard hourly rates of our directors, solicitors, trainee solicitors, paralegals and other staff are reviewed from time to time and we will notify you of any charges upon request and as rates change.
- 16.4 We record the time either electronically or on our files for the time that we spend working on your matter in units of six minutes so that there are ten units in every hour.
- 16.5 We give each of our lawyers an hourly charging rate. Some of our lawyers have more experience and so we set their hourly rates higher. Sometimes we may also “blend” an hourly rate so that we use a single hourly rate for both senior and junior lawyers
- 16.6 You will pay the expenses we incur in the course of providing our services to you (including travel and subsistence expenses, search and filing fees, court fees and barristers’, foreign lawyers’ and other third parties’ fees and expenses).
- 16.7 For the avoidance of doubt, any information on costs we give you is exclusive of value added tax at the prevailing rate and any expenses which we incur on your behalf.
- 16.8 Grades of fee earner:

The grades of fee earner have been agreed between representatives of the Supreme Court Costs Office, the Association of District Judges and Law Society. The categories are as follows:

 - 16.8.1 Solicitors with over eight years post qualification experience.
 - 16.8.2 Solicitors and legal executives with over four years post qualification experience.
 - 16.8.3 Other solicitors and legal executives and fee earners of equivalent experience.
 - 16.8.4 Trainee solicitors, paralegals and other fee earners.
- 16.9 Payment may be made by VISA or MASTERCARD and no fee is chargeable by us when making payment by credit or debit card.

- 16.10 We may incur certain expenses on your behalf (such as search fees, stamp duty, court fees, copying charges and couriers' charges). We will not incur any material expenses (such as counsel's fees or foreign lawyer's fees) without your approval and it is our policy when incurring such charges including our own charges to obtain money from you before that time is incurred.
- 16.11 In certain circumstances we may receive a commission for work relating to the instruction of third parties. BTMK will not benefit from any such commission and these will be donated to charity.
- 16.12 We may also charge you for photocopying, telephone calls, video conferencing or other services provided by BTMK Solicitors Limited at our standard rates from time to time.
- 16.13 We may agree with you not to use hourly rates and the time that we spend as the basis of our charges. We are also able to agree charges up to a certain level, fixed charges that depend on certain circumstances and in some cases we may also agree a "retainer" which is to do certain amounts of work for a fixed charge each year.

17. Quotations and estimates

The provision of figures (orally or in writing) from time to time for the likely cost of a piece of work is an estimate only and does not constitute a contract to carry out the work at that cost. Such an estimate may also only relate to the first stage of work that we carry out for you and our actual charges may be more or less than our estimate.

The provision of a written quotation for work constitutes an offer to carry out the work at that cost and does not become a contract until you accept the quotation.

Where we are required to carry out work which falls outside of an accepted quotation, we may charge fees at our standard hourly rates in addition to the quoted or estimated fee. We may also charge additional fees on the same basis for work within the scope of such a quotation or estimate which is made more time consuming, complicated or urgent as a result of

- (a) circumstances or information which we did not know or could not reasonably have anticipated at the time of the quotation or estimate being given, whether or not you were aware of such information;
 - (b) your, or your agents' act or omission.

18. Payments on account

It is the firm's policy always to obtain from you a payment on account of our fees and any expenses which we may incur on your behalf unless specifically agreed with you at the outset of your matter. However, the total fees and expenses actually incurred in relation to a matter may be more than your payment on account. We pay interest in accordance with the terms of our interest policy.

If you do not pay when requested to do so a sum on account of your legal costs when required to do so, this will usually be grounds for us to terminate our contract with you to provide legal services.

We are entitled to ask you to make a payment on account of costs even if the likely fees we are to charge is fixed or by reference to an event that may take place in the future.

19. Costs in relation to contentious matters

The general rule, in relation to litigation conducted in England & Wales, is that after trial the losing party is (subject to the discretion of the court) ordered to pay the fees and expenses of the successful party except in the case of Personal Injury and Clinical Negligence matters and in some specialist tribunals. These costs are as assessed by the court and are unlikely to cover all of the fees and expenses actually incurred by the successful party. This is all subject to highly technical rules regarding offers that may be made or received during the course of any proceedings.

This means that, if we are acting for you in relation to a contentious matter and you are successful, the unsuccessful party may be ordered to pay a sum towards your fees and expenses but this is unlikely to cover your total costs and you will always remain liable for these.

In addition, the court has power to order that the costs of any interim applications be paid immediately by the unsuccessful applicant to the successful applicant. Therefore, even if you are ultimately successful at trial, you may be liable for the costs of interim applications during the course of litigation.

If the other side is or becomes legally aided, it is highly unlikely that you will recover your costs even if you are successful.

Legal expenses insurance may be included in your contracts of insurance and you should check your policies to see if you are covered. The responsibility is on you to check if your legal costs or those of your opponent may be covered and by instructing us and paying us for your legal services that we provide to you, we will assume that you have checked your policy or policies accordingly.

Your policy may cover your costs and/or your liability to pay the other side's costs. If you believe you are covered, please discuss this with us so that we can assist you in notifying your insurer. If you do not have legal expenses insurance, you may be able to purchase insurance to cover you in the event that you have to pay other side's costs.

A conditional fee agreement is an agreement whereby we would be entitled to charge you an increased fee if you were successful, and would charge you no fee or a reduced fee if you were not successful. You might be able to take out an insurance policy to cover you in the event that you were ordered to pay the other side's costs. Not all matters are suitable for funding of this type but we are happy to discuss this further with you at your request.

In relation to any legal costs insurance cover that you may have, you are entitled to instruct a solicitor of your own choice but this usually only applies after court proceedings have commenced. If you have chosen to instruct BTMK then we may only be able to charge your insurer an agreed rate that they have in place with other panel solicitors. If this is the case then you may be liable for the shortfall in our hourly rate and we will discuss this with you beforehand. It is your responsibility to find out the rate that your insurer will pay to us.

In certain types of cases, we can secure insurance to cover your adverse (opponent's) costs and disbursements in the event that you are unsuccessful and you are ordered to pay costs. It is your responsibility to ask as if you wish to enquire about this type of insurance however these terms of business confirm only that this type of insurance may be available, but not that it is suitable or appropriate for your particular case. Please enquire with your lawyer if you require further information.

20. Our bills

- 20.1 You are liable to pay legal costs as set out in our letter confirming your instructions. We will also usually discuss this at our initial meeting with you.
- 20.2 If you and another person or company give us instructions on your case, you are responsible for paying our bills individually as well as a group. This means that we can demand payment from one of you or all of you, whichever we choose.
- 20.3 Our bills will be addressed to you and you will be liable to us for our fees and expenses. This will be the case even if our bill acknowledges that another person may pay it on your behalf. We are not permitted to prepare a Bill to any person who is not our client including any business or company that may ultimately be owned by you.
- 20.4 In some circumstances you may have a right of recovery or indemnity against a third party in respect of all or part of our invoices, but we are not permitted to issue a VAT invoice to any person other than you in any circumstances, and you remain liable to us to pay our invoices notwithstanding such a right.
- 20.5 Bills should be paid within 14 days and in sterling (unless otherwise agreed). We may charge interest on overdue bills at 4% above the base rate of the Bank of England.
- 20.6 We may cease acting for you if an interim bill remains unpaid after 14 days or if our reasonable request for a payment on account of costs is not met.
- 20.7 Where we require payment from you or others for the completion of your matter we may postpone completion until we are in receipt of cleared funds. We accept no liability for any loss arising from delay in the clearance of funds which is not attributable to us. We reserve the right to charge interest at 4% above the Bank of England base rate.
- 20.8 You have the right to challenge or complain about our bill. Please see the Complaints section above for details of how to complain about our bill.
- 20.9 You may have the right to challenge our bill by applying to the court to assess the bill under Part III of the Solicitors Act 1974. The usual time limit for making such an application is one month from the date of delivery of the bill. If the application is made after one month but before twelve months from delivery of the bill, the court's permission is required for the bill to be assessed.
- 20.10 Unless there are special circumstances, the court will not usually order a bill to be assessed after:
 - twelve months from delivery of the bill;
 - a judgment has been obtained for the recovery of the costs covered by the bill
 - the bill has been paid, even if this is within 12 months
- 20.11 We can keep all your papers and documents while there is still money owed to us for fees and expenses.
- 20.12 Our bills will always be prepared in £GBP (sterling). If we agree that you can pay our bills in another currency then you must ensure that the money you send to us is enough to pay the amount in full after any exchange rate conversion. You will be responsible for any change in the exchange rate and for any bank charges we have to pay for such a currency conversion.
- 20.13 In relation to a joint and several retainer, if you instruct BTMK with one or more other parties, individuals or corporate entities, you are jointly and severally liable for our fees and charges until such time as the retainer is terminated or unless there is a variation to this provision in writing and signed on behalf of BTMK.

21. Payment of interest

Our policy for paying interest where we hold money in client account is contained in our Interest Policy a copy of which is attached. The policy refers to our Compliance Officer for Finance and Administration (COFA) who is Joanna Smith who can be contacted on 01702-238575 (email: joanna.smith@btmk.co.uk) or by post to Joanna Smith, BTMK Solicitors Limited, 19 Clifftown Road, Southend-on-Sea, Essex SS1 1AB.

This will include disclosure of any discrepancies between the mortgage application and information provided to us during the transaction and any cashback payments or discount schemes which a seller is providing you. If a conflict arises we must cease to act for your lender in this matter and in some circumstances we must cease to act for you as well.
- 22.3 Unless expressly instructed otherwise, we will not deal with any issues post-completion, other than dealing with registration of the property.
- 22.4 Unless expressly agreed between us otherwise, as part of our standard fee, we will not deal with any issues relating to the apportionment of liability for service charges, either pre-or-post completion and any work which we are required to carry out in relation to these issues will be charged for separately and where necessary, by referral to our litigation and dispute resolution team.

31. Email policy

- 31.1 Email communications have many benefits. It is very fast compared to post and can be sent and received 24/7, 365 days a year. Consequently, during the course of your matter it is likely that we will receive a substantial amount of e-mail traffic.
- 31.2 We respond to e-mails in the same way that we respond to postal or document-exchange or fax correspondence. This means that incoming communications are processed according to a number of factors, including but not limited to:
- 30.2.1 Date of receipt
 - 30.2.2 The particular stage of the client matter to which the e-mail or communication relates
 - 30.2.3 The level of urgency and importance of the e-mail or letter as perceived by us;
 - 30.2.4 The level of fee earner or lawyer required and the time it will take to respond effectively and comprehensively to that e-mail or communication;
- 31.3 Incoming and outgoing emails are routinely monitored. Whilst we utilise virus protection software we cannot guarantee that emails sent by us will be virus free. It is your responsibility to carry out virus checks before opening any email sent by us to you.
- 31.4 Emails pass through unregulated service providers and may be subject to interception by governments or others. We do not encrypt emails and they may therefore be vulnerable to these risks. Your acceptance of these terms of business specifically operates as your consent to include confidential information to you and third parties in non-encrypted email. If you do not wish us to communicate with you or third parties in connection with your matter by email you must confirm this instruction to us in writing.
- 31.5 In practice this means that some e-mails will receive our response sooner than others. It also means that on some occasions an e-mail will not require a response or receive a response from us in order to progress your matter. We may also choose not to forward to you every e-mail communication that we receive about your matter.
- 31.6 We also have a “reasonable” use policy in relation to incoming e-mails or communications. If we consider that the amount of e-mails or letters that we receive in relation to your matter, and particularly in relation to fixed fee matters is becoming unreasonably excessive or is outside of the usual scope of your transaction, we reserve the right to revise our fee estimate. If we do this we will tell you.
- 31.7 We will allocate and store to your matter on our system each e-mail or communication that we receive about your matter.
- 31.8 Email related fraud is on the increase. We will only send you business-related emails from the @btmk.co.uk domain address. Our website will only be www.btmksolicitors.co.uk accessed directly or via btmk.co.uk which automatically diverts to the full website address. You must give us notice in writing, either by post or electronically, or alternatively by sending us the cancellation notice slip which is enclosed with the Engagement Letter (where applicable). The notice of cancellation will be deemed as having been served on us as soon as it has been posted, or sent electronically. Please note that if you agree in writing that we should undertake work on your behalf before the end of the cancellation period, then even if you cancel your agreement with us you may still be required to pay for services supplied before the cancellation date.
- 32.3 If you have instructed us using a form of ‘distance communication’ such as telephone or email then you may withdraw your instructions within 14 days from first instructing us without any charge being made by us. You must give us notice in writing, either by post or electronically. The notice of cancellation will be deemed as having been served on us as soon as it has been posted, or sent electronically. Interest Policy

1. This policy sets out how BTMK applies interest in relation to funds held in our client bank account.
 2. SRA Accounts Rules 2019 7.1 and 7.2 state that:
 - You account to clients or third parties for a fair sum of interest on any client money held by you on their behalf
 - You may by a written agreement come to a different arrangement with the client or the third party for whom the money is held as to the payment of interest, but you must provide sufficient information to enable them to give informed consent

Responsibility for payment of interest

3. The directors are responsible for agreeing the interest rates stated in this policy.
 4. The COFA is responsible for:
 - devising and implementing this interest policy, in consultation with the directors
 - providing assistance to individuals and/or teams who have responsibility for calculating or paying interest
 - reviewing on a quarterly basis, or when the base rate changes, the interest rates we receive and pay
 - monitoring compliance with this policy
 - reporting on a quarterly basis to the directors on BTMK's interest arrangements

When do we pay interest?

5. We do not pay interest:
 - on money held to pay a professional disbursement, if the intended recipient has requested that we delay in paying them
 - on money held for the Legal Aid Agency
 - on money that we have paid into a client account as an advance from BTMK to fund a payment on behalf of a client or trust in excess of funds held for that client or trust
 - if we have a specific agreement with the recipient to contract out of our obligation to pay interest
 - if the amount of interest, calculated in accordance with this policy, is less than £20
 6. We will pay interest on all other monies held on client account, including any monies we should have held on client account but failed to do so.
 7. Interest will be calculated and paid in accordance with this policy. The amount of interest paid to each recipient will take into account:
 - the amount held
 - how long we held cleared funds
 - the requirement to provide instant access to funds held in client account
 - the rate of interest payable on the amount held in an instant access account at the bank where we have our client account
 - the practice of the bank where we have our client account on how often interest is compoundedCurrently, due to the low interest rates on current accounts, interest is paid at base rate.

Types of client account

8. Client account monies can be held in two different ways:
- in a separate designated client account (SDCA)—in some cases we can open a separate bank or building society account for a specific client or trust, etc.
 - in our general client account—this is where we hold monies for clients or trusts that are not held in an SDCA

Interest on monies held in our general client account

9. The interest rate is likely to change from time to time.
10. Interest will be paid before deduction of tax. It will be the recipient's responsibility to declare interest received to HMRC.

Best available rate

11. We are required by the Solicitors Regulation Authority (SRA) to deposit monies in instant access accounts only. This means that the interest rate paid on monies in an SDCA or our general client account may not be as high as the recipient can achieve by placing the money on deposit themselves. We will ensure that the recipient is aware of this and, where appropriate, has the opportunity to make alternative arrangements.

Interest period

12. Interest will be calculated over the whole period that we hold the monies, starting from the date the monies are treated by us as cleared funds.
13. Unless we are notified by our bank to the contrary, we will treat monies as cleared funds in accordance with the table shown below:

Method of payment	When are monies treated as cleared funds
cheque	3 working days after the money has been paid into our client account debit or credit card	date of actual receipt into the account
direct transfer	the following working day

14. We will apply the same time periods when calculating the date that monies leave our account.

Monies held on more than one matter

15. Where we hold monies on more than one matter for a recipient, interest will be calculated separately for each individual instruction—unless it is fair and reasonable to aggregate the interest.

Payment dates

16. Generally, interest will be paid at the conclusion of the retainer unless otherwise agreed. However, there may be instances where it might be more appropriate to account for interest at intervals throughout the matter.

Special cases

17. This policy does not apply when we act as liquidator, trustee in bankruptcy, Court of Protection deputy or the trustee of occupational pension scheme. We will comply with the appropriate statutory rules and any other relevant provisions of the SRA Accounts Rules 2019 regarding payment of interest.

18. If we hold money jointly with a client, the interest earned will belong to the client, unless we agree otherwise.
 19. If we hold money jointly with another practice, we will agree with the other practice how interest will be allocated.

Unpresented cheques

20. Where we pay monies to clients by cheque, some clients will delay in paying the cheque into their bank. We will pay additional interest only where it is reasonable in all the circumstances to do so.
 21. Where we do recalculate interest and/or issue a further cheque, we reserve the right to charge for the additional work involved.

Informing clients of our interest policy

22. We will notify clients of our interest policy in our client care letter and/or terms of business.
 23. Failure to explain our policy on payment of interest could give the recipient unrealistic expectations about the amount of interest they will receive. Ultimately, this could lead to complaints to BTMK and/or Legal Ombudsman.

Contracting out

24. Contracting out usually takes the form of agreeing that we will pay no interest or a reduced amount of interest. It can also include agreeing to pay 100% of the interest received on monies held on general client account, where this exceeds the amount that would normally be paid under this policy.
 25. We may, by written agreement with the client and/or recipient, contract out of the terms of this interest policy.
 26. We will only contract out where doing so provides a fair outcome. This will depend on all the circumstances, e.g.:
 - the amounts involved—the larger the sum of interest, the greater the onus on us to show that the client has been treated fairly
 - the status and bargaining position of the client—it may be less appropriate to contract out if the client is a private individual with little legal exposure than for a commercial client where the interest represents a very modest proportion of the overall transaction
 - whether there are specific reasons for contracting out, e.g. tax reasons or religious belief
 27. When agreeing to contract out, we will:
 - act fairly towards our client
 - provide sufficient information to enable the client to give informed consent

Failure to comply with this policy

28. We are required to notify the SRA if we breach the SRA Accounts Rules, including the rules relating to payment of interest. If you suspect that we have breached this policy, please report your concerns to our COFA or COLP using the process described in our separate Compliance failure policy.

Training

29. All staff will receive training, as necessary, on our interest policy including:

- regular training for existing staff
 - training for new staff at induction
 - updates following any changes to the policy that affect staff
 - focused training for individual staff or teams responsible for specific interest actions

Monitoring and review

30. The COFA is responsible for this policy.

31. All staff must be aware of and adhere to it.

32. The COFA will monitor compliance with this policy by reviews of files and a regular review of interest calculations.

33. We will review this policy regularly—at least annually. We will provide information and/or training on any changes we make.
